AFPC Secure Password Security Improvements

Due to recent attacks against USAF networks and in order to better protect Air Force members' data we are further increasing our security on current password usage. Air Force directives are requiring passwords that are more difficult to guess and exploit. Effective 31 July 2006 AFPC Secure passwords will be minimum 9 characters, encompassing two each: Upper case letters, lower case letters, numbers and special characters. Passwords will also expire after 60 days vice the current 90 days. These changes will allow continued access to some single-user personnel applications (self-service) via userid and password.

Use wildcard characters to broaden your search.

% for any string of zero or more characters.

_ (Underscore) for any single character.

[] (Square brackets) any single character within the specified set.

Multiple PAS codes may be searched for by separating them with commas.

Examples:

Entering %David in the name will return all records where either the first or last name contains "David".

Entering [ABC] in the name will return all records where the last name starts with either A, B, or C.

Entering RJ in both the Current and Gaining MPF will display all current and gains to that MPF.

Entering F7JH, F7JK, FN99, FPBB, FNZH in the Current and Gaining PAS fields will return all records for those PAS codes.
